On the 102th birth Centenary Celebration of Mahatma Narayan Das Grover

On this auspicious day of 15th November, we fondly remember and pay our humble tribute to Mahatma Narayan Das Grover, a visionary educationist, reformer and the guiding force behind the DAV movement. His life was a shining embodiment of the ideals of Maharshi Dayanand Saraswati reflecting unwavering faith in the principles of truth, discipline and selfless service to humanity.

Mahatma N.D. Grover devoted his entire life to the noble cause of education—an education that blends modern scientific knowledge with the eternal values of our rich Vedic heritage. Blending science with timeless Vedic insights empowers learners to seek truth through reason while remaining rooted in eternal values. Through his tireless efforts the DAV institutions grew into a vast network nurturing generations of enlightened, responsible and compassionate citizens.

His ideals of simplicity, humility, dedication and moral strength continue to inspire every member of the DAV family. He believed that true education is not merely about academic excellence but about building character, fostering integrity and awakening the inner potential of every child.

As we celebrate his Jayanti, let us reaffirm our commitment to uphold his values and carry forward his mission of spreading the light of knowledge and righteousness. May his divine legacy continue to guide us in our journey of shaping young minds and creating a future grounded in values and wisdom.

In remembrance and reverence,

INDRANI CHATTERJEE
